

IAQA 14th Annual Meeting & Indoor Air Expo

February 15-17, 2011 ■ The San Antonio Marriott Rivercenter Hotel & San Antonio Convention Center

The Indoor Air Quality Association (IAQA) 14th Annual Meeting takes place February 15-17, 2011 and once again combines exposition halls with the Air Conditioning Contractors of America for the largest Indoor Air Expo ever held. The ACCA 43rd Annual Meeting will take place simultaneous to that of IAQA, and those in attendance will have opportunities to participate in both conventions. Our members will come together each day for networking, meals and social events at the Indoor Air Expo.

Call for Papers

IAQA has issued a Call for Papers for its 14th Annual Meeting. Submittals are due by June 30, 2010. Persons interested in giving technical presentations must submit an abstract no more than 400 words in length that gives the title of the presentation and a brief description of its contents. Submittals must also include the speaker's biography and must distinguish whether the presentation could be 45, 60, or 90 minutes in length. Final selections will be made by IAQA by July 31, 2010 and a technical program will be published shortly thereafter. Please note that those selected will be required to submit complete technical papers and Power Point presentations to IAQA by December 1, 2010. Send your submittal to kleee@iestandards.org or by fax to 301-231-8321.

Attending the Conference

Attendee registration will open in late summer 2010. A tentative program of events will be posted to IAQA's website this summer. Hotel reservation information will be available as well at www.iaqa.org.

Exhibiting and Sponsorships

Exhibiting and sponsoring at the IAQA 14th Annual Meeting & Indoor Air Expo is an opportunity unlike any other in the IAQ and HVACR industries. It gets you and your company in front of the people who make purchasing decisions at thousands of consulting and contracting businesses nationwide. No other convention has such a high quality audience!

And in 2011, by joining forces again with the Air Conditioning Contractor of America, the Indoor Air Expo will welcome thousands of IAQ practitioners and HVACR contractors! More than 2,000 attended the combined IAQA-ACCA Indoor Air Expo in 2010. You can't afford to miss it!

Sponsor the IAQA 14th Annual Meeting to take your business to the next level and get a reach unmatched in the IAQ industry; and know that your sponsorship dollars are being used to promote the betterment of IAQ practices world-wide!
